Sewer service in Pleasanton to jump $1 per month due to VCSD action

PLEASANTON - The city council has slapped a $1 per-month increase on the sewer service fee charged to every dwelling in this community, but not without reminding the populace that "this is the price we pay for not having control of our own sewerage system."

The higher city rate — bringing to $11.50 for each two months the tab paid by residential customers — is in direct response to a 55% across-the-board jump "unilatterally imposed by the Valley Community Services District. Since 45% of Pleasanton's sewer service comes from VCSD, "the city has no choice but to pass those higher rates directly to the customer," council explained.

The new VCSD schedule, effective July 1, will mean a $98,000 boost in the city's total payment to the service district for fiscal 1975-76, to a grand total of $263,000. Pleasanton's new sewer service fee will be identical to that charged by VCSD for customers throughout Dublin and San Ramon, at least on the per-dwelling scale.

This will mark the third jump in that service charge in less than three years. In 1972 a city customer was paying $2.60 per month for the same service that now will go to $5.75 effective July 1.

The higher rates will actually generate $22,000 in excess of the $98,000 being added by VCSD to the city's bill, "but that will just help retire our sewer service deficit a little, and still leave us with some $20,000 in arrears," explained Jim Walker, the city's finance director. An alternate proposal to add $1.25 per month to the service charge "would have brought the city's total sewer budget into balance," but the council declined to add that extra 25 cents until a staff review of all muni rates is completed, probably in late 1975.

Walker further explained that "it has been the city's goal in recent years to have both the sewer and water departments at least break even, but that hasn't been possible in the last year or two." There was a time when those two departments were among the biggest profit makers for the city. "But as we buy more water from Zone 7, and more sewer service through VCSD, our opportunity for showing a surplus is gradually lost," Walker said.

Council accepted the "surprise notice" of VCSD's latest fee hike with reluctance, and some anger.

"We never know why, we just pay the higher fee," said Mayor Ed Kinney.

"This is an excellent example of what happens when a city loses control of its own sewer system," added Councilman Robert Philcox. "The people have to understand this."

As it is the city sewer fee is broken down into two parts, to include a $1 per month surcharge. In this way the city avoids paying VCSD 87.5% of that added dollar. Pleasanton's contract with the VCSD requires the city to pay the service district 87.5 % of any charge it levies over and above the stated VCSD rate.

"I don't know how we get ourselves into a mess like this," was one disgruntled comment from behind the council's bench.

Raymond promises full time

Valerie Raymond

Pledging to be "a supervisor who will work full time on the job," Valerie Raymond this week launched her second bid to capture the First Supervisorial District of Alameda County.

Ms. Raymond acknowledged she was getting a one-year jump on the first ballot test in June of 1976, but she reminded her supporters that "we ran against John Murphy in 1972 with only eight weeks preparation, but won 41 percent of the vote."

The Livermore housewife and environmental activist made it clear that it will be the incumbent member of that county board who will be her primary target in the upcoming campaign. Ms. Raymond took several swipes at Supervisor Murphy in her prepared remarks.

"The district needs better representation than it has had for the past 15 years," she said, a reference to Murphy's tenure in that county post. The "three areas I feel are most important to the district" were listed by Raymond as: "Accountability — a supervisor who listened to the residents, and encourage citizen participation.

"The wise use of land — I feel very strongly about sound and sensible land use policies that are interrelated with local and regional needs.

"Availability of services — the disadvantaged residents, minorities and older people of the district experience considerable difficulty in (getting) help from the county."

Born in England, Ms. Raymond has been resident of Livermore for the past 12 years. She is married to William Raymond, an employee at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory. They have two children. Ms Raymond is 35 and is currently associated with the firm that publishes "The Independent," a tri-weekly valley publication. Like Murphy, Raymond is a Democrat.

Uncollected fees cost Zone 7 $250,000

PLEASANTON - The city has shorted Zone 7 at least $250,000 in uncollected connection fees as the result of installing off-sized water meters, claims Robert Pearson, a Zone 7 director and former mayor of the city.

Pearson said he intends to pursue the matter at the next Zone 7, County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, meeting in July.

He claims the shortage to the Zone is the result of not charging the city's residents for inetalling three-quarter inch size water meters.

Assistant City Manager Alan Campbell has said the city purchased almost 2,000 of the five-eighths inch meters which apparently have sparked the controversy.

The latter were tested by Zone 7 and found to be three-quarter inch meter in five-eighths inch casings.....and have a capacity about 1½ times greater.

Pearson said a little more than 1,000 of the "special" meters were installed starting back in 1972 as replacements when older meters were removed from service.

No connection fees were charged for the replacements, according to Campbell.

The first term Zone 7 board member claims that all of the replacement meters will be of greatest benefit when pressure is low. Pearson believes that each of them should have been charged another connection fee, proportional to the increased capacity, with the fees being remitted to Zone 7.

Pearson figures the additional amount should be about $275, since the installation fee for standard meters is about $625. He said the city never consulted with Zone 7 before purchasing and installing the replacement meters.

The city stance is that the meters are better quality and more versatile than the ones purchased at the same price as the other meters ($42.07 each).

Pearson said Tuesday he expects his fellow Zone 7 directors to concur with him and possibly turn the entire matter over to the Zone's counsel.

In an obliquely related matter, city council members Monday night discussed allocation of 32 Dwelling Unit Equivalent sewer connections to the Sunol sewage treatment plant. At a meeting in late May, a report reviewing the status of allocation of 250 DUE sewer connections allowed by the Regional Water Quality Control Board showed 200 had been used. An in-depth story on this may be found elsewhere on the page.

In other coincil business Monday, a request of the chaober of commerce for permission to attach a temporary building to the existing sewer line and waive fees was approved on a 4-1 vote with Councilwoman Joyce LeClaire dissenting. The chamber office is located on Neal Street next to the Southern Pacific rail tracks.

Council also acted to accept work at Bicentennial Park on Santa Rita Road, granted a deed of conveyance to Pacific Gas and Electric for lighting in the Peters Avenue parking lot, heard a report regarding recruitment of a deputy city attorney and approved an agreement with the state covering automatic gates on the St.Mary Street crossing of the Western Pacific Railroad tracks.

Bank robbery foiled?

DUBLIN — An alert bank manager may have aborted a robbery, Friday, when he tipped off Alameda County Sheriff's Deputies to two "suspicious" youths officers now believe were casing the Dublin branch of the First National Bank of Pleasanton.

Deputies spent nearly four hours tailing Lee M. Jackson, 19, and Darrelle E. Scales, 18, both of San Francisco, following a tip by First National manager John Williams that the duo was driving around the bank peering into windows and studying doors.

Jackson and Scales allegedly sped away when they noted that Williams had spotted them.

Deputies Paul Otey and Tom Frost spotted the two on their way to Liberty House shortly after Williams' 3:15 p.m. warning.

With one packing a large briefcase and the other draped in a heavy coat on a 90-plus-degree day, they weren't inconspicuous, according to Sgt. Ron Ziegler, who ordered units to "keep an eye on them."

With several investigative units in the area, including Capt. Dennis Jeffery of the main station, it was not an impossible task.

The duo was followed first into Mervyn's Department store by deputy Don Cordes, then to nearby West Coast Stereo, and back to Mervyn's.

Deputies lost one for a few moments behind Mervyn's.

They both reappeared then headed for the Dublin Square area, "apparently checking out cars," Ziegler added.

Their suspicions no longer restrained, several patrol units approached the two.

When outstanding traffic warrants were discovered, officers "inventoried" Jackson's briefcase, uncovering allegedly stolen license plates, pliers, wires, handcuffs, two stocking masks and a map of the First National Bank area, including alleged escape routes, the location of a getaway car and a "stash" for a change of clothes.

The two were charged for possession of stolen property, conspiracy to commit armed robbery, possession of burglary tools and no draft cards.

(Federal law requires all males less than 35-years-old to carry their draft cards.)

The two were arraigned Monday and are scheduled to appear again today in Livermore Municipal Court to enter a plea.

Refurbishing Fairgrounds entry

The main entry way into the County Fairgrounds off of Pleasanton Avenue is in the process of being widened and generally refurbished prior to the premiere of this year's County Fair, scheduled to start a two - week run at the end of this month. The forms in the center outline what will be a drainage channel. Construction work into "Palm Way" includes a new toll booth (center background). Fairgoers will also note a mammoth Young California Building near the Amphitheatre and a horse overpass among the improvements accomplished since fair time last summer.

State and county healtt. officials tried copper-sulfate in Shadow Cliffs lake for a second time.

Shadow Cliffs still closed

PLEASANTON — Shadow Cliffs Park, the watering - hole for Valley residents during the long, hot summers, will be closed again this weekend — the fourth in as many weeks — according to Alame a County Health Department and East Bay Regional Park District officials.

The park was closed May 13 following reported outbreaks of "swimmers' itch."

California Department of Health officials began their second treatment of the lake early Monday morning following an unsuccessful earlier attempt to eliminate the lake's water snail population.

Results of Monday's treatment should be in Thursday, according to Dr. Robert Lane of the department.

Even if the tests show the snails dead, it will take 72 hours for parasites already in the water to die.

The snails act as carriers for cercariae — infected stages of the immature blood fluke known to cause "schistosome dermatitis," or swimmers' itch. Snails pick up the nearly - microscopic organism from the feces of migrating water fowl.

The parasites are released in proper water conditions and burrow into human skin seeking a new host.

People will not host the organism and they die immediately leaving a measles-like, painful rash.

The department tried to eliminate the snails last week with copper - sulfate after obtaining special permission to use the chemical from the California Department of Food and Agriculture.

Copper - sulfate is not labeled for use in treating the problem, although it is the chemical usually used.

The treatment apparently failed, however, when the large crystals would not dissolve rapidly enough to reach a toxic level for snails.

Monday's disbursement of a fine, blue, powdery copper - sulfate "should do the trick," Earl Mortenson of the state Department of Health said.

Five-hundred pounds were spread along the weeds dotting the north and west banks and to a line some 100 feet beyond the diving raft.

The treatment "shouldn't be too harmful" to spawning fish, Mortenson said.

The swimming area was saturated and a barrier hopefully formed to keep out any snails from the southern reaches of the lake.

Officials started the project at 7:30 a.m. while the waters were calm, Mortenson continued, "so the copper - sulfate could settle on the bottom where the snails are."

15 percent boost

Cable TV rates to rise

Alameda County Bureau

Cable television rates in the unincorporated areas of the valley will jump 15 per cent on the July 1, the Alameda County Board of Supervisors ruled yesterday in Oakland.

The board voted unanimously to approve Tele-Vue Systems' request to boost aerial connection rates from $5 a month to $5.75 and extra connections from $1 to $1.50 a month.

The move still leaves subscribers in the unincorporated areas with lower rates than those in valley cities. Those residents pay $6 per month.

Tele-Vue has not raised its rates since 1968 for the unincorporated areas.

However, the main order of business for the supervisors was the first of four all-day sessions on the proposed 1975-76 budget. Although no decisions will be made until the final work session June 19, the board began gathering information to make decisions on that day.

County Administrator Loren Enoch, who assembled the budget, began the hearings with a short statement emphasizing three points. First, he said, the high unemployment in Alameda County (up to 15 per cent in Berkeley and Oakland) will cost the county more and more money and force it to do more things.

Secondly, inflation has affected the whole budget, most notably salaries, where Enoch's original estimate of $9.4 million in compensation was jumped to $13 million after the conclusion of negotiations last month.

Finally, Enoch warned that money from the state and federal government will not be present in the same quantity as in years past and the supervisors will have to determine which programs to continue to fund.

"The board is going to have to make some difficult decisions" Enoch concluded.

Supervisor John Murphy, who represents the valley, fired some tough questions at Planning Director Bill Fraley concerning Fraley's requests for dditional positions in the planning department.

Murphy questioned the need for a county-paid planner to assist in the development of the county-mandated specific plan that must be prepared for the proposed Las Positas development north of Livermore.

Fraley asked for $17,869 for a planner to assist Harlann Geldermann's consultants as well as check out the reports and conclusions that Geldermann might come up with.

"Doesn't the applicant have to come up with the plan?" questioned Murphy.

"They certainly have a major role" conceded Fraley but defended the need for an additional staff person to deal with the facts, figures and planning of Las Positas.

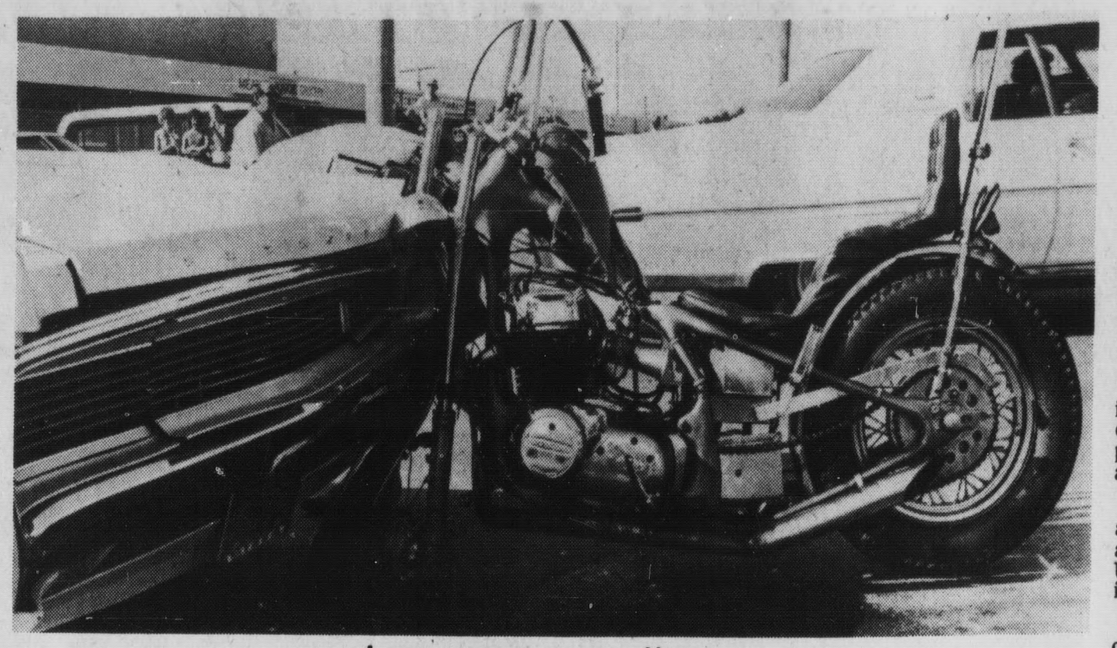
The supervisors also heard testimony on the Shared Recruitment Program, which combines the evaluation and advertising of positions available within the county with positions available in seven cities throughout the county.

Enoch recommended cutting off the funds for the program — which both Pleasanton and Livermore have entered — since no results have been forthcoming.

Alameda County Personnel Director Al Nardi said "We are confident this program will pay off" and stoutly defended the $49,612 expenditure.

Nardi cited the highly complex rules and regulations for testing applicants for jobs with public agencies and claimed implementation of the program would allow the personnel department to remain at its relatively low staffing level.

Jim Vallardi of Hayward's personnel department said that cutting off the program would be "something on the order of a tragedy".



Intersection collision

Gary Louis Savage, 19, of Concord, was rushed to Valley Memorial Hospital Monday evening, after his motorcycle allegedly was struck by a car driven by Lora Lee Evans, 657 Del Sol, Pleasanton, at First and Spring Streets at 5:30 p.m. According to police reports, Evans stopped at the intersection but didn't see Savage heading south on First Street. When police units arrived Savage was found walking in circles on the southwest corner, holding his throat and complaining that he couldn't breathe. He was treated at VMH for a cut above his left eye and abrasions on his leg, and transferred to Kaiser Hospital in Walnut Creek for further x-rays. He was released later in the evening. An investigation is continuing.

Schools' quiz irks parents

LIVERMORE - A questionnaire on fundamental schools that went out to local homes Monday has aroused the wrath of many parents and teachers.

The questionnaire outlines in abstract terms a plan for a conservative school with emphasis on quiet, punishment and academic diligence.

"Not a questionnaire but an application," charged several at last night's Livermore Unified School District meeting.

"Deceptive," one member of the audience stated. "The questionaire gives such a broad definition that we presently have six out of the seven goals" that are characteristic of the proposed new system.

A letter signed by 200 parents and teachers objecting to the survey was read to the school board last night. "We would like to include in a parents' survey several classroom styles--fundamental, traditional self'contained classrooms, team teaching and personalized learning, explaining each to the parents.

So, what's new?

Parents not so sure

Campus smokes OK say students

PLEASANTON - An overwhelming number of students and teachers, and to a much lesser degree parents, believe that smoking should no longer be prohibited on high school campuses in the Amador district.

This result was disclosed Tuesday night as part of a review of a smoking survey by the Campus Smoking Legislation Committee to the Amador Valley Joint High School District board of trustees.

The smoking survey "overview" discloses that 692 think that smoking by students on campus should no longer continue to be prohibited. A breakdown of the vote, as tabulated by a subcommittee of the Campus Smoking panel, shows students at Amador, Foothill and Dublin favoring the lifting of the ban by a 534 to 269 margin. Teachers voted 90 to 47 for lifting of the smoking-on-campus ban and parents voted 68-59.

In reviewing the survey, Neil Sweeney, director of education services and committee liason, reminded trustees that 100 Amador parents were not included in the figures released Tuesday night. He said that responses by schools followed similar patterns, i.e. percentage of yes and no answers were about the same.

On a second question asked of students, teachers and parents at each of the schools..."If the policy remains as it is, would you be willing to help enforce it?"....students said "no" by a 540 to 245 margin, teachers went the other way and said "yes" by a narrow 71-63 margin and parents checked "no" by a 75-47 margin.

A third, two-part question, asked if non-smokers would be encouraged to start smoking if smoking were permitted on campus. Students, on a 528 to 246 "no" vote said it would probably NOT encourage new smokers. Teachers were in agreement with students on this, 82 to 46, and so were parents, 73 checking "no" and 44 "yes."

If smoking were permitted on campus students who do smoke would probably tend to smoke....more, students voted 346 to 47, teachers 56 to 9 and parents 59 to 10. 393 students checked "same" as did 62 teachers and 57 parents. The results on this question indicate that a predominant number believe a smoking area on high school campuses would be open sesame to smokers smoking even more.

Approximately 80 per cent of respondents indicated that "If smoking were allowed on campus, it should only be in specific designated areas."

The parent group voted 110 to 10 for smoking (if allowed) only in designated areas, teachers voted 119 to 23 and students 622 to 169. The alternative was "...or anywhere in buildings, which is prohibited by law."

Of the 1,083 responding to the survey, 818 are students, 138 teachers and 127 parents. The breakdown of smokers to non smokers showed 86 non-smoking parents, 109 non-smoking teachers and 640 non-smoking students.

Recently-passed state legislation gives each school board the option of permitting smoking on campus at one designated location. The Campus Smoking Legislation Committee has been charged with determining all factors involved and presenting data to the Amador school board so they can come to a decision prior to the bill becoming law Jan. 1, 1976.

The committee, composed of teachers, students, administrators and parents, has held two meetings to date.

In other business last night, Foothill High School principal Don Landers reported on program planning for 1975-76 in light of 400 additional students creating a strain on present facilities. Landers said the addition of an 11th grade next fall will bring the enrollment up to about 1,050 and necessitate some shifting of classes.

Board members also acted to approve a $7.7 million tentative budget, awarded bids on Regional Occupational Program relocatable buildings and school buses, heard reports from the physical education elective committee and Foothill High School and recommended changes in the school's Phase II construction.

Preliminary plans for the Amador High School library addition and passage of a resolution underscoring support for a Las Positas overcrossing were also acted upon.

Trustees also adopted the certificated salary schedule for 1975-76.

New oil well plan revealed

LIVERMORE - The Hershey Oil Corporation of Los Angeles has requested permission to drill three wells out near Greenville and Patterson Pass roads, the site of great expectations in 1967.

One well would be an oil production one, taken over from the McCulloch Oil Company while the other two would be exploratory — for oil and gas — according to Alameda County Zoning Administrator Dick Flynn.

There are about six oil producing wells in the Patterson Pass area, where once hundreds of exploratory wells were dug, according to Livermore Planning Director George Musso.

"Apparently the sub-surface geology is a highly fractured system and there are a number of relatively small pools at relatively shallow elevations," commented Flynn.

Hershey's request will be considered at a county zoning administration meeting Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. in the Public Works Building in Hayward, 399 Elmhurst St.

Granada bands travel south

LIVERMORE - The Granada High School band recently returned from a three-day trip to Southern California, participating in the Costa Mesa Band Review and at Disneyland.

Students earned the money for the trip through fund-raising activities. They traveled by bus and were housed by families of high school students attending Burbank High and Estancia High in Costa Mesa.

The four Granada High bands are under the direction of Ted Spilman.

TINGLING, NUMBNESS IN HANDS WILL RETURN AGAIN & AGAIN

Dear Doctor: "I am suffering from what I understand to be a "neuro - median disturbance." I say I "understand", but I don't.

First my hands started "Going to sleep." Then I lost strength in one hand. I've been told that I can try surgery to relieve the pressure."

Dr. William Hoffert of Livermore said the writer of the above inquiry was referring to the median nerve which passes through a sheath in the wrist or carpal area.

"Pressure on the nerve there can cause what is called the carpal tunnel syndrome - tingling, numbness, loss of strength in the fingers." It is one of those 'sure as the sun will rise' problems.

"What I mean, frankly," says Dr. Hoffert, "is that this is a problem that is going to keep returning, and with greater intensity, just as sure as the sun rises, if no effective treatment is obtained."

There are many contributing causes to the 'carpal tunnel syndrome' ranging from low thyroid activity to menopause.

"By far the most common cause is injury or excessive strain," says Dr. Hoffert. "And just as the leaves of an injured branch will wither, so too will a hand lose its usefulness if this problem goes unsolved."

There are many short range treatments for the tingling and numbness but all are something of a "band aid" approach to the problem. Such short haul solutions as hydro-cortisone injections or hormone therapy seldom prevent that eventual recurrence that will come "as sure as the sun rises."

Simply trying to reduce or prevent the tingling and numbness is not a solution. Nor is immobilization a desirable goal. The only proper goal is restoration of use.

"I'm not going to comment on the advisability of surgery for this condition, except to say that chiropractic has proven ever so effective in unlocking nerve pressure and restoring vital nerve flow.

"I urge anyone who has this condition or notices occasional tingling in the fingers or numbness or a hand that frequently goes to sleep to look into it and seek proper and effective care as quickly as they can."

Dr. Hoffert maintains chiropractic offices in Livermore.

Open space rivals?

A recent exchange of "open space positions" in this newspaper would seem to suggest that all East Bay factions are united in at least one goal — Preserve the ridgelands for both public enjoyment and private agricultural use. The facts suggest no such harmony is being achieved, and makes us wonder if that dual-purpose goal is even practicable.

The advocates of PARC (Preserve Area Ridgelands Committee) would like to have it both ways — Champions of the environment when that image is appropriate, and friends of the rancher when they are challenged on that score. Again, there would be no problem in riding both horses at once, if only PARC was big enough for the straddle.

William Herlihy has done as much as any one valley resident over the last decade to actually preserve the "open space" which seems to engulf these three valley urban centers. And yet Mr. Herlihy has voiced his own public doubts (in Sunday's Times) about the "multi-jurisdictional support" claimed by PARC in that group's spirited campaign.

Without trying to rehash the position of PARC, or the conflicting concerns of agriculture, there is one "open space" fact that is inescapable — Agriculture is being squeezed out of the high country just as surely as it finally yielded the valley floor in the three decades following World War II.

The Williamson Act (providing for "permanent" ag preserves) has been a significant stop-gap to agriculture's erosion throughout much of the East Bay, but even that movement is temporary at best, and — in many quarters — suspect as to its real value. More changes seem inevitable in the Williamson Act, and it is questionable right now whether those changes will advance the short-term cause of agriculture at the long-term expense of our open vistas.

If we would really prefer to "protect and preserve the rancher" while guaranteeing us flatlanders at least that permanent vista, then there should be "Open Space Committees" prepared to attack the current assessment practices which encourage development at the expense of agriculture, and there should be campaigns before the state legislature to provide meaningful and permanent "green belts" where that use is clearly in our best interest, either as consumers as or as recreationalists.

That is not what is happening . And that is why the mighty efforts of a group such as PARC seem hollow; and why the lament of some rancher-developers fails to win popular support. Logic would seem to dictate there is common ground for those who would preserve the best of what we have, simply by finding ways to make that status quo economically feasible, and publicly enjoyable.

Until we get such an effort, all of this breast-beating to "Save the Ridgelands" is going to accomplish very little, while ranching continues its exodus, and the lands which man and beast have shared for centuries wind up serving neither.

The fun spoilers

Three outstanding events, each produced with almost flawless perfection by three hardworking groups of local citizens took place in the valley over the past weekend.

The Livermore Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated for their presentation of the Maid of Livermore pageant last Friday evening at Castlewood Country Club.

The event was well staged, Ed Rundstrom an articulate, debonair and polished Master of Ceremonies and the girls were all lovely.

The pageant was one of which the community might well be proud and the contestants a credit to Livermore.

Indeed, ten more personable, poised and beautiful young ladies would be hard to find anywhere else in the United States.

Although the pageant was a hard act to follow, the Jaycees came through in remarkable style the next day with their production of the 57th annual Livermore Rodeo Parade.

Only the people who work so hard in the preparation of such an event can know about the great effort by a group of dedicated men is required in the production of anything as massive and intricate as the parade.

Shortly thereafter a throng moved out to Robertson Park to watch the Livermore Rodeo, produced annually by the Livermore Stockmen's Rodeo Association.

The rodeo, as did the two previous events, operated with flawless precision, the crowd was orderly and enthusiastic and the performers among the best in the world.

Association members work for nearly one solid year producing that annual event which is tied so closely with the agrarian beginnings of this valley and which is as American as Moms apple pie.

This year there was an indication of a rebirth of interest in the rodeo as almost 14,000 persons streamed out to the stadium Saturday and Sunday to cheer the successfull cowboys and groan for those who spilled uncermoniously from their mounts or who missed with their ropes.

Those 14,000 rodeo fans probably represent a larger total than all of the rest of spectators to occupy the Robertson Park Stadium for an entire year.

With so much good going for the valley over the weekend it is a shame that a small minority of rowdies and ruffians managed to put a stain on a portion of the festivities by engaging in a series of brawls and battles which sent more than 40 of them to jail and several Livermore Police officers to the hospital.

Perhaps it is a sign of the times when a few score of several thousand participants at a street dance are able to destroy the event, perhaps for all time.

There have been rowdies at previous Livermore rodeo weekends, but none to equal the young ruffians who managed to mar one of the prime valley weekends with their vicious and uncivilized behavior.

"Too much booze and too many people," is the way Livermore Chief of Police Ron Lindgren summed up the situation.

To that, and it is certainly true, we might add too little discipline and too little respect for the rights of others.

The shift to unbridled violence which appears to be moving from the urban centers into suburbia was never more evident than last Saturday night.

Beer bottles sailed through the air at First and J Streets in Livermore. An officer was badly cut by a broken bottle used as a weapon. That is something new in Livermore and an item which needs critical appraisal.

The clashes have been described as being between "cowboys and motorcyclists."

An examination of the arrest reports reveals the clashes were more likely between knots of individual hoodlums, many of whom wore ten gallon straw hats and blue jeans.

Whatever the case, what happened Saturday night was more important as a symptom than as an isolated event.

Were the hoodlums who spoiled Saturday night the vanguard whose followers will bring more violence into the valley? It is possible. If so, we had better sit down and plan a way to stop them now. The good work of the Chamber, Jaycees, and Rodeo Association should not have been spoiled by an uncivilized minority.

Hindsight/Foresight

An end and beginning

Where do I go from here?

For hundreds of valley high school seniors, this week marks a very significant ending to a segment of their lives and also quite a momentous beginning.

The culmination of the high school years indeed catapults the graduate into the adult world....ready or not. The graduate will be expected to find his own way socially and economically at a time when the world can be quite uncompromising.

Yet, it is an era that knows few absolutes. The idle and recalcitrant succeed and the hard-working and fair-minded are overlooked. Today's standard of living will not necessarily be the same tomorrow.

The world is upside down (or so it seems at times) and perhaps the best "oars" to weather the sea of life from age 17 or 18 on are a calm demeanor and an orderly mind.

As a product of the 50s, an era that has been replayed in countless movies and records the past couple of years, it is awesome to compare the economic and social climates, particularly the latter, between "then" and "now."

Prevailing attitudes, at least to this writer, are far more liberal whether you talk about methods of education, styles of dress, the relation of student to teacher or student to student.

It is a world where respect and dedication are sometime things.

Going on to college is no longer the next logical step in the progression of life. Nor is getting married and raising a family.

Seniors graduating this week have come up through the grades during a time when all our social and economic tenets have been thrown open to question.

What is wrong with living together outside of marriage?

Can we not exist without being ruled by the dollar sign?

Must we aspire to a position of prominence to be considered a success?

Is this to be a matriarchal or patriarchal society? Must one sex be dominant, the provider all the time, or can it truly be left to each individual male and female without enforced or implied coercion?

The opportunities are unlimited, but so are the pitfalls.

We of the 50s were really not that well insulated from the harsh realities of life as the preps of today might imagine. Growing up was just as hard then, the opportunities were not nearly as great but the pitfalls just as plentiful.

We went to college or settled down to married life soon after graduation day. It's strange, but the old high school campus became such a foreign place so quickly after checkout day.

The classes of the 50s were spawned in tandem with the Korean "conflict". That was "our war" but we also had a stake in Vietnam, a catastrophic engagement that would bedevil the classes of the sixties.

Now the classes of the 70s are without war. But the fields and mountains ahead are no less formidable. The Class of 75 must make its way in a period clouded with uncertainties.

We can't help but remember a line from the movie "Save The Tiger." "There are no rules today, just rules makers."

What you believe right may be totally wrong by my standards. The point we make here is that their seems to be a need to return to some basic truths, to embrace them once again and try to understand them.

For too long the classes of the late 60s and now into the 70s have looked at our institutions from a negative viewpoint. It is time all of us, especially the Class of 75, started learning from the experiences of the past and built on the positive aspects.

Congratulations and welcome Class of 75!

Cemetary weed plots

Editor, The Times:

Summer is fast approaching and on the rise south of town the tall weeds are rapidly drying to a crisp among the neglected graves of the I.O.O.F. cemetary.

What has become of the committee which was formed two years ago to determine once and for all what could be done to correct this deplorable condition?

Surely, with preserving our heritage a high priority on our list these days, something can be done to protect the final resting place of those who first settled this valley and the many who followed.

A lodge which flaunts its name boldly over the entrance but refuses to properly shelter that which lies beyond, can certainly do better; Pleasanton, a city of planned progress can certainly do better; and we who "care," but find utter frustration as an end result, certainly must find a way to do better.

Mrs. C.S. Hardin
Pleasanton

round the town

For a nation that travels on its wheels, we are not in very good shape. No indeed. It isn't that the production of automobiles is failing to keep pace with demand. But there aren't enough roads for those horseless chariots to traverse.

That bit of knowledge comes from no less an authority than the folks who make a living building roads. Since a number of them appear to be busy as blazes throughout the valley these days, it might prove of interest to know how the nation stands, road-wise.

You may or may not be impressed with a figure such as "3.7 million miles of roads in the United States today." But that total diminshes somewhat in the realization that, way back before World War I, this country had over 2.6 million miles of passable roads. And that was before the automobile really took hold in this country!

No one that we know of is arguing for MORE roads. But there is considerable agitation for improving what we already have. Discounting freeways for the moment, (let's not start THAT hassle again!) there is a great deal more weeping and gnashing of gears over the condition of our "secondary roads." Just in Northern California, I am reliably informed, "the cost for bringing our secondary roads and highways up to standard would run to hundreds of millions of dollars ... and California simply doesn't have the money."

If you have been taking any spring vacation trips, then you are aware of the problem. If the big vacation journey is still ahead of you, then be prepared for the worst. Once off the freeways and major highways, the pot holes can be frequent, the shoulders uncertain, the "narrow bridge" a surprisingly frequent item, in this day and age.

Those of you who have had occasion to live "out there" are not surprised by such revelations. Road building and maintenance in the hinterland assumes just two priorities: 1. That route which leads directly to the county seat; 2. That which leads to the residence of the area's state legislator/congressman/road commissioner (take one). Everything else is out of this world.

In my recollecetions on "Life in Tulelake and environs," I failed to make mention of the roads. Most routes are more crooked than the politicians who control and build same.

You city dwellers cannot comprehend the importance of a road in the hinterland scheme of things. The gravelled, graded path was a mark of considerable recognition; to have that route sprayed with oil was to declare that you are a person of some importance, and political clout. The rare instance when a route was fully paved was a tribute second only to being elected to the county board of supervisors ... although one triumph usually followed the other.

Tulelake had the distinction of having been founded in the eye of a volcano. It quit erupting a few million years ago, but left quite a hole. Which filled in, over the centuries, with vegetation, silt and animal matter. The town is on 3000 feet of that stuff. Not a stone or piece of clay for 3000 feet straight down. It's like living on a great bowl of Jello.

In the days before Tule's main business street was paved, an auto became entrapped in the spring thaw. Efforts by larger and larger tractors to remove the thing proved futile. Finally the road commissioner gave the only order that made sense: "Push the damned thing down into the mud and it will help provide some base when we get around to paving this street." And that is exactly what they did.

That same quality of Tulelake earth provides some of Northern California's finest growing ground. But the world's worst drinking water. Drill a well anywhere up to 3000 feet through layers of decayed animal and vegetable matter and you get water that tastes like ... rotten cabbages and field mice.

Its one good quality was that it would burn. The city's main well had for years a stand pipe alongside — just like in the oil refineries — and our stand pipe, drawing on nothing more than the methane gas produced by that well water, burned 24 hours a day. It was a source of energy we never learned to harness, or even to get along with.

There was the occasion when the local Shell Service Station operator closed down his place for a two weeks' vacation. He returned to find a customer waiting at the pumps, and a drifter waiting to make use of the station's rest room. "You can use the can if you want," Virg said, handing the drifter the key, "but it will probably stink like hell from two week's accumulation of methane gas." The drifter was unimpressed, and settled himself down to do his business. He also chose that moment to drop the remains of his cigarette in the toilet bowl.

The resulting blast sent the man clear through the door, and onto the ground where he was torn between trying to cover up, and a passionate desire to cool off his behind. He finally abandoned both causes, and simply collapsed.

The records show that country roads produce almost three times the fatality rate of the major interstate systems. When you figure what we had to put up with in Tulelake, even getting off the road and into the wash room was a hazard beyond belief.

Sound and Fury

Walt Hecox

Friday night we sat at a banquet table in Castlewood and watched ten of the loveliest girls in the valley parade across an elevated walkway in the center of the room while competing for the title, Maid of Livermore.

Saturday and Sunday we drove to Robertson Park in Livermore and saw one of the great spectacles in this valley, the greatest from this old man's corner, the Livermore Rodeo.

The Friday night show was overwhelming. The girls were fresh and young and, in their formal gowns, beautifully dressed, a welcome relief from the blue jeans and shirtails affected by so many female members of the younger set today.

Any one of them might have won. Terri Groshong, a truly pretty lass, walked away with the honors.

Watching those girls parade before an appreciative audience I thought about many things but mostly that there is still hope for this troubled land of ours, still reason to have faith with a government of the people, by the people, for the people.

There are some beautiful and talented girls in the valley who are proud of being women for the sake of being women and for that I am grateful. There is, and I have always believed this, only one point of inequality between them and their opposite numbers on the male side of the fence.

They are one hell of a lot more attractive, personable, decorative, enchanting and delightful than any man who ever lived. With that kind of an edge I have never understood what they need with women's liberation.

Saturday and Sunday, with the exception of the graceful and daring girl barrel racers, was an all men's show.

All men if you can overlook the work of Rodeo queen Cindy Davis and her hostesses who spent much of the afternoon herding reluctant steers, broncos and calves into their exit chutes.

The men were the center of attraction. Brave youngsters who pit their strength and skill against the wily and muscular resistance of a variety of animals, all of them, with the exception of the speedy and elusive calves, about ten times the size of their human adversaries.

"The men are there because it is their choice to compete. the animals don't have that choice," one of the office Rodeo critics admonished.

They are not men, as are the Spanish bullfighters, who torment and then murder their foes for the sake of something folks with warped minds call sport. They are practicing the skills of the cowhand, exhibiting for the interested public the techniques and methods which cattlemen use to bring beef to our tables.

There are critics of almost everything on this tired old globe. It is fashionable, these days, to misuse human beings in a variety of ways without giving much thought to the matter. Let a bucking horse or nimble footed steer work at his trade and there is going to be some hell raised by tender hearted lads or lassies who don't give much of a damn for the man in the saddle but who weep when that one sparrow falls.

My admiration for the brave men and women who risk their lives in competition weekly, pitting their strength and skill against giant beasts, grows year by year.

Never did my regard for those lads under the broad brimmed hats get a larger shot in the arm than Sunday afternoon when I looked into the chute almost directly below the judges stand and saw Larry Mahan easing into the saddle of a bare backed bronc and preparing himself for action.

A man could not help but notice that every thing he handled was touched by his left hand. The right hand, covered by a light yellow glove, he held aloft.

Lots of folks out there have probably never heard of Mahan, but many more know about the little man in this late blooming day of big time rodeo.

He is, for the sake of the ignorant few, Mr. Rodeo himself, the Joe Namath of the saddle, the Jack Nicklaus of the dusty arena, the Cassius Clay of stirrup and spur.

Larry Mahan has been all around professional rodeo champion for a total of six years. He has made more than half a million dollars in prize money while riding the backs of bucking broncos and brahama bulls.

Mahan's fortune has not come easily. He competes among the ranks of the cowboy elite, the bull , bareback and saddle bronc riders.

He moves through life with a spine jolted by a thousand horses, his Post Toasties scarred by the hooking horns of hundreds of bulls .

Saturday evening Mahan was competing in a big time rodeo in the Los Angeles area, riding a bronc not known for his tractable disposition. What happened has never been made clear to me. What I do know was that his Saturday night ride cost Mahan a broken hand, not the left hand he holds high in the air while astride the straining spine of an inhospitable equine, but his right hand with which he grasps the halter or rein.

Mahan had promised to be in Livermore Sunday and the little man they call "The Bull" was as good as his word. Right hand gloved and in obvious pain, he sat high in the saddle in two events, scoring 67 aboard his bareback bronc and 51 in the saddle.

Of course he did not win. But no one has done more to revive my faith in America during the last few weeks than those lovely lassies at Castlewood Friday night and Larry Mahan, the wealthy cowhand who cares enough about his commitments to suffer a little pain if that is what is needed to make his word good.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Move slowly and cautiously today concerning major family issues. A lapse in judgment could cause a problem of long duration.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't place yourself between dissenting factions today. If you take sides, you'll wind up catching it from both.

GEMINI (Mary 21-June 20) Treat possessions — yours and others — with the respect they deserve today. Otherwise, you might have to furnish a costly replacement.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) The outcome will be anything but what you hoped for if you try to impose your will on others today. Be extra-considerate.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's fine to be neighborly, but don't overdo it today. Several people are going to try to load their responsibilities on you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This is not a day for financial dealings with friends. Have second thoughts before borrowing from or lending to a pal.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Presuming to be something you're not will be disastrous for you today. You may fool yourself, but no one else.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't attempt tasks involving high costs at this time, unless you know exactly what you're doing.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're on treacherous footing today in business dealings. A wrong decision will incur higher-than-usual losses.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Making major decisions will be difficult for you today. If you have doubts about your reasoning, stall for time so you can think more clearly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't make decisions beyond your rank today. Let those paid to give the orders call the shots.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're careless with your resources today, so you're not in a position to advise others. They'll wind up in the middle of your muddle.

Your Birthday

June 11, 1975

You'll place a heavier emphasis than usual this year on acquiring material goods. Your prospects look promising, provided you don't take too many flyers.

In accordance with our policy of being kind to declarers most of the time, we have given South a sure thing play at trick one. West has led from the king-jack of spades and he can play either the queen or 10 from dummy with complete success.

This didn't help the South who actually played this hand in a rubber bridge game. He studied, cogitated, thought, finally took a coin out of his pocket, tossed it while saying, "Heads I play the queen."

South asked which card we would have played. Jim's reply was, "The queen — there are lots of players who just hate to lead from a jack-high suit against notrump; few who hate to lead from a king."

Oswald's reply was longer. It was: "Forty years ago when you were a baby the correct play would have been the 10 spot. In those early days of contract, players were taught not to lead from kings if they could find any other lead. In fact there was a bridge player's Hell where the poor sinner was continually on lead against the devil while holding all four kings. Today, however the queen is the better try."

STEVE AVILA says there's nothing better than an all day fishing trip at the Berkeley Pier for a graduation present. Steve celebrated his eighth grade graduation by spending the day fishing with his dad, Lionel Avila.

He came away from the pier with lots of perch and some bass. Shrimp, sardines, and anchovies were the bait used. Steve reported that a big one got away from his dad. "The thing used up all the line and just kept going," said Steve.

THE FOLLOWING RULES and regulations were adopted by the California Fish and Game Commission.

Commissioners changed some possession rules and made the usual adjustments for Saturday season opening and Sunday season closing dates.

The major change, approved earlier, provides for a special deer tag for northeastern California. Persons buying the tag will have to forego the general tag, good for one buck in any other open area, and the option tag, which can be used in the two-buck area.

Other regulations changes will:

- Require hunters and trappers to kill Furbearers and nongame animals taken immediately or obtain a permit to retain them alive.

— Prohibit the taking of furbearers and nongame animals with the aid of dogs in an area east of Fresno during February, March and April.

— Expand the night hunting closure north of State Highway 46 to State Highway 198 between Interstate 5 and State Highway 99.

New regulations will take effect July 1.

The following is a rundown on proposed mammals and furbearer hunting and trapping regulations by species:

DEER - Early season (Zone A) Aug. 2-Sept 14, limit two bucks, forked horn or better. Inland season Sept. 27-Oct. 19; limits one buck, three points or better in northeastern area (Zone X); two bucks, two points or better in northwestern area (Zone B); one buck, forked horn or better in balance of area (Zone D). Late general season (Zone E) Sept. 27-Nov. 2, limit one buck, forked horn or better.

ARCHERY DEER - Early season July 4-20; late season Aug. 23-Sept. 14, limits the same as for rifle season.

BEAR - Early season Sept. 20-Dec. 14; late season Oct. 11-Jan. 4, 1976; limit one adult bear per season.

WILD PIGS - Open all year statewide; limit one pig per day, one in possession.

ARCHERY BEAR - August 23-Sept. 14; limit the same as for rifle season.

TREE SQUIRRELS - Sept. 20-Feb. 1, 1976 in the same areas as last year, with the addition of Butte County, Aug 2-Feb 1, 1976 in counties of Marin, Napa, Solano, Sonoma and that portion of Lake County outside of Mendocino National Forest. Bag and possession limit four per day.

ARCHERY, FALCONRY TREE SQUIRRELS - Aug. 16-Sept. 7 in the same areas as last year. Bag and possession limit four per day.

RABBITS - Sept. 1-Feb. 1, 1976 for jackrabbits in counties of Imperial, Los Angeles, Riverside and San Bernardino and southeast Kern County; no closed season in balance of state, no bag limit but valid hunting license required to hunt. July 1-Feb. 1, 1976 for brush, cottontail and pigmy rabbits and varying hare in general area, Sept. 1-Feb. 1, 1976 in southeastern California; bag and possession limit five per day.

The commission put over until July 25 consideration of proposals for a permit and report system for collectors for the pet trade of native reptiles and amphibians except frogs.

Sought is a compromise between no restrictions and a DFG-suggested ban on collections for the pet trade which the commission rejected last March.

In other action, commissioners approved:

- A DFG request to enter into an agreement with Sonoma County to share costs of a fishway for Healdsburg Dam on the Russian River

— A request to publish notice of the commission's intention to establish Upper Newport Bay Ecological Reserve and adopt regulations for its use.

— The designation of 425 acres at the mouth of the Salinas River, Monterey County, as the Salinas River Wildlife Area and the addition of 119 acres to the Buena Vista Lagoon Ecological Reserve in San Diego County.

— A proposed resolution opposing legislation restricting the possession and free use of firearms for legal purposes and supporting legislation directed against the illegal or improper use of firearms.

Kissin heads for snake pit

There are precious pockets of time in Roy Kissin's schedule, rare moments of relaxation, winding down from the tension of long-awaited competition.

The medium is still distance running, but without the suffering that accompanies eight laps on a griddle-hot track.

The smoothly contoured foothills of Contra Costa, with their sidehill trails switching back and forth, comfortably rising and falling, offer welcome respite from concrete stadia and tofficials barking lap times every 440 yards.

Sunday afternoon, Roy drove to Lafayette Reservoir, to temporarily remove himself from any and all notions of conflict.

Not possible.

"I was running along, when all of a sudden I instinctively looked down and saw a rattlesnake about four inches from my foot," he recalls.

"Something came over me, and my heart began pounding out of control."

So much for the serene, meditative pleasures of a spin through the countryside.

For those who like symbols, the rattler may suggest the competitive snakepit which Roy is likely to face in the month ahead.

Tomorrow, he leaves for Knoxville, Tenn. and the National AAU Junior Track and Field Championships. He's entered in both the 5,000 and 10,000 meters in the weekend meeting, though he'll probably pass up the longer race.

Either way, the running should be of high quality. At stake are positions on the U.S. team which will meet the Russian juniors in Lincoln, Neb. July 4th and 5th.

Were Roy to opt for the 10,000, he would again face Eric Hulst of Laguna Beach, who last Saturday ran a state record 8:44.9 for two miles to win the California championship

By choosing the 5,000, Kissin has tajen on Ralph Serna, who finished one second behind Hulst and some 10 seconds ahead of the San Ramon graduate.

"I think Serna has had his peak race now," says Roy, referring to the torrid progression of two mile races in southern California this spring. "I don't think I've had mine."

"Besides, in a national championship race, you can't worry about another individual's past performances. It's one of those 'any given day' situations."

Still, he admits that his decision to skip the 10,000 has been influenced by the presence of Hulst and others.

"I heard that there were eight six-milers in the race who've run 28:30 or better. My best is a solo 29:40, although I'm pretty sure I can go between 28:30 and 29:00 for six."

After Knoxville, Roy will stay in mid-America for a week, moving on to Chicago where he'll run in the Coca Cola Junior Invitational the following weekend. All winners at that meet will travel to Jamaica for a week, climaxed by an international competition in Kingston.

Kissin feels the state high school meet was an excellent entree for the sharpness he'll need to contend with his opposition in the weeks ahead.

"I'm trimming the fat from my track workouts," he says. "In a race, I should be able to gauge my stamina and strategy much better. You get to the point where you have to make a conscious decision — whether you're going to really plow into it, or if you don't have it, to just back off."

NY Life captures Bobby Sox crown

New York Life went on a two-game hitting rampage to sweep the three game Pleasanton Bobby Sox softball championship series from Flowers N' Things Sunday and Monday.

The Amazons pounded the Creamcups, 12-9 in the opener, defeating outstanding pitcher Lynn Fruchtenicht. They came right back Monday with a 14-5 triumph that featured four home runs.

The Amazons made the most of eight base hits in the opener, paced by Gretchen Heinbaugh's three runs-batted-in. Julie Bangert, Bernie Pla and Mary Hansen all had two hits

Laurie Morley singled three times and tripled for the Creamcups. Teammate Mona Long doubled twice.

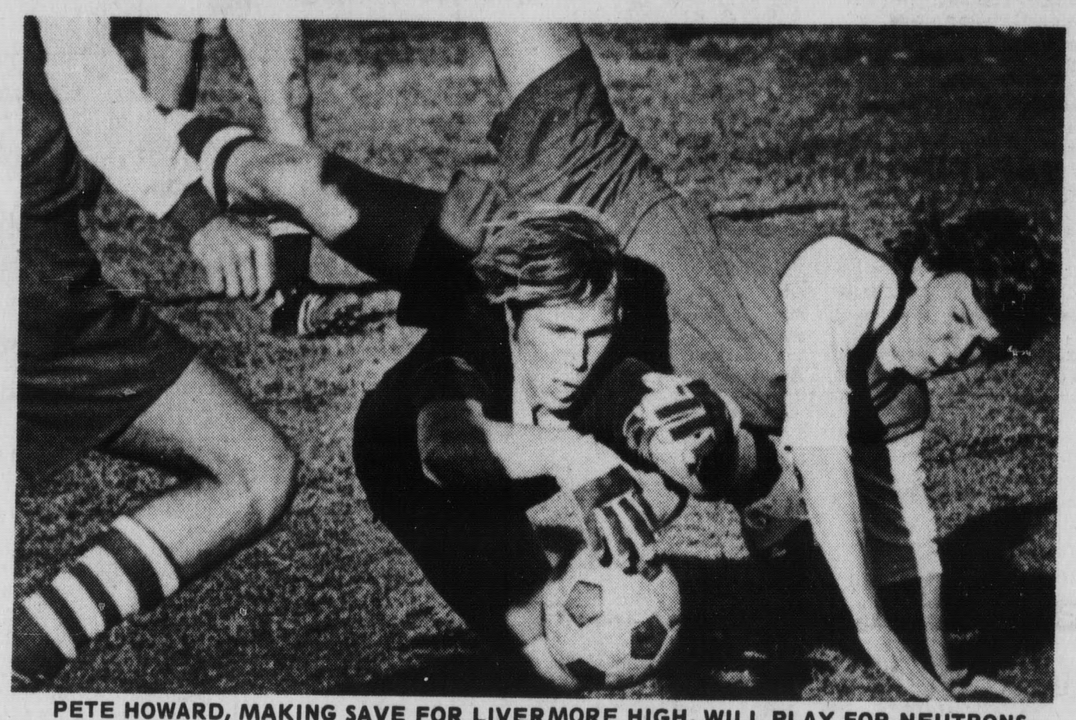
Hansen was the winning pitcher.

Though Fruchtenicht was the losing pitcher, she reached the 100 mark in strikeouts for the season.

In the deciding game Monday, Jayne Kuhns pitched a five-hitter for New York Life. She also crashed two home runs and drove in three runs.

Teammates Bangert and Heinbaugh also hit home runs. Hansen laced one double, and Karen Johnson singled twice. Patty Gadd crashed a triple.

Pleasanton Hotel closed out its regular season with an 11-10 victory over Amador Sports. Michelle Benseon and Suzanne Sabal hit home runs. Benson drove in five runs, and struck out nine as the winning pitcher. Ann Peterson had three hits for the losers.



PETE HOWARD, MAKING SAVE FOR LIVERMORE HIGH, WILL PLAY FOR NEUTRONS.
Howard will back up Kevin Lennon in Milwaukee national championships.

Neutrons would rather play ball

It turns out that qualifying for the National Youth Soccer Championships was the easy part for the Livermore Neutrons. Getting back to Milwaukee to challenge for the under-19 Junior Challenge Cup is another thing, however.

Livermore is scheduled to begin play in the four team championships Saturday at Bavarian Field in Milwaukee. Sides from New York City, Dallas and St. Louis will also be there to climax an elimination process that began with 300 under-19 soccer teams.

To reach the final round, the Neutrons had to defeat last season's runner up, Pico Rivera, 2-1. At the time it seemed like a major accomplishment. Since then some real problems have arisen, however. The team has to finance its own trip to Milwaukee. And a lot of players will be forced to miss their own high school graduations.

"This is a once in a lifetime opportunity," however, gushes one Neutron who undoubtedly hasn't spent much time in Milwaukee. But his sentiments reflect the feeling of the Livermore players, who have convinced parents that a chance for the national championship outweighs the distribution of diplomas, and even the celebrating that follows.

None of the players will stay behind because of that.

The remaining hurdle is even tougher to scale, though, the problem of money.

"We had to pay for our plane fares Monday," said Neutron coach John Young yesterday, "and we're kind of in a hole right now. If we can't come up with all we need, the parents will end up having to pay for it." The team needs $3,000 for expenses. It has raised $2,000 so far.

The Neutrons are soliciting contributions for their journey, and those wishing to help can call 447-6861 in a hurry. The team departs Thursday morninf for the big weekend series.

Young still does not know who his team will face in the tournament opener Saturday afternoon. That won't be revealed until Friday in Milwaukee.

The three opponents are Blau-Weiss Gottsche of New York, third place team in last year's championships, Oak Cliff of Dallas, and Imo's Pizza of St. Louis, which defeated the defending titleist Pepsi Celtics.

The Neutrons jet back to the midwest with a 16-1-0 record this season. The only loss came to Club America in the State Cup playoffs.

It is an almost exclusively Livermore bred roster, with one noteable exception, Mark Bryant of Dublin. Bryant, who has been offered a scholarship for soccer by USC, will start at a halfback spot. He was a member of Chabot College's state championship team last season.

The 24-year old coach, Young, is a product of the Atomic Soccer Club in Livermore. He played at Chabot College and at Cal State Hayward, and most recently for the Tri-Valley Soccer Club. He has guided the Neutrons since they were formed in 1968.

"I was volunteered for the job," Young laughed. "That's the way a lot of us got started in soccer back then."

Seven of the players headed for Milwaukee were with Young when the team was formed.

The Vally Realty Reds came up with too little too late and dropped a close 6-5 decision to the Mobil Braves. Larry Rogers and Chris Bowling each had two RBI's in the game.

Pleasanton Ruth

Mike Hoff, pitching for the first time this season in the Pleasanton Babe Ruth League, threw a no-hitter or two-hitter, depending on your vantage point, but there was no denying Lions' Club's 17-2 rout of Casa Verde.

Hoff gave up two hits that his coach insists were errors. In any event, Hoff dominated the Braves, and kept the Lions in first place with a 5-2 record. Five bases on balls and four errors contributed to the Brave scoring.

John Castello slashed five singles to pace the Lions, while Hoff had three hits and four runs-batted-in. Pat Driver singled home two runs.

Allied Brokers scored six runs in the fourth inning of its game to defeat Koopman Linoleum, 9-7 Rick Stevenson and Dennis Jones both blasted triples for the winning A's. Dino Krikorian, Mark Bauhofer and Chris Kearns of the Mets all doubled.

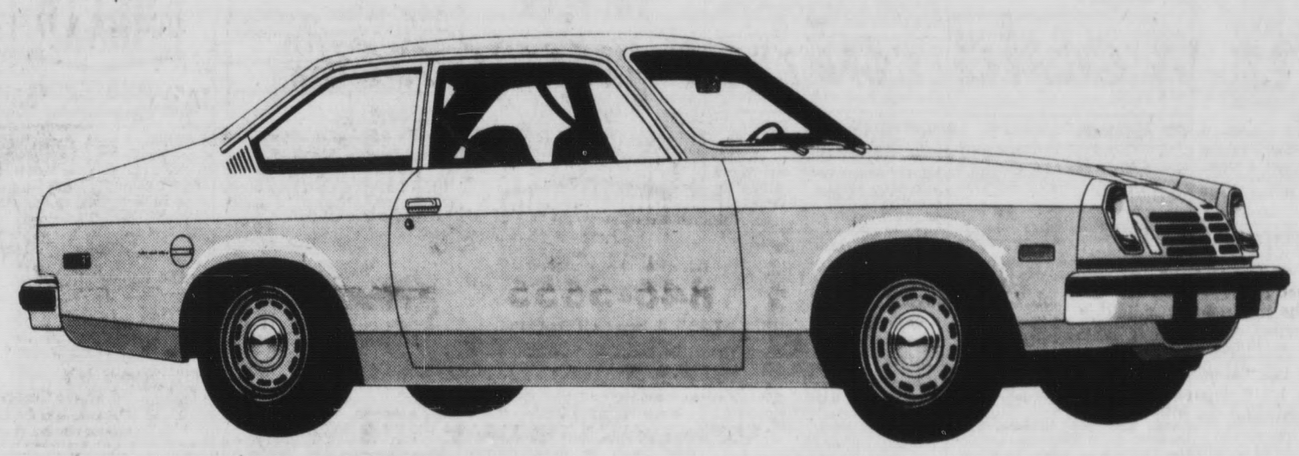
Scott Henderson was the winning pitcher.

Mark Smith threw a no-hitter for R&S Drayage Friday night highlighting a weekend of action in Pleasanton Babe Ruth baseball.

In one of the weekend's key contests, Amador Sporting Goods came up with three runs in the eighth inning to defeat Televue, 9-7, and remain undefeated through seven games.

GM MARK OF EXCELLENCE

You don't have to buy an import to get good gas mileage.

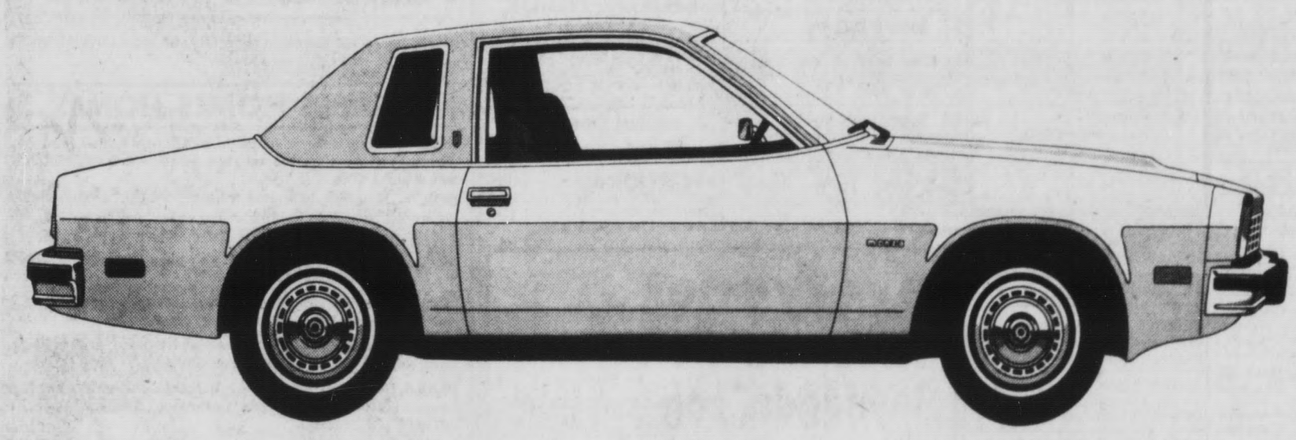


33 MPG

America, would you believe 33 mpg in the EPA highway test? An import? Not on your life. The '75 Chevy Vega Notchback, equipped with the available 4-speed manual transmission and 140, 2-barrel engine, is rated at 33 mpg in the U.S. Government EPA California highway test. And 21 mpg in the EPA city test. That's the kind of mileage that makes sense today. And multiplying Vega's rated 16-gallon fuel tank capacity by the EPA highway rating, Vega has a potential highway driving range of up to 528 miles. Test-drive the 33-mile-per-gallon Vega at your Chevy dealer's today. It's got a lot to offer besides mileage.

CHEVY VEGA NOTCHBACK $2978*

*Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price, including available 140-2 engine at $50.00, 4-speed manual transmission at $56.00, Deluxe bumpers at $40.50, California Emission Certification at $45.00 and dealer new vehicle preparation charge. Destination charges, other available equipment, state and local taxes are additional.



32 MPG

Chevy's dressy new Monza Towne Coupe, equipped with the available 2.3-litre, 2-barrel engine and 4-speed transmission, is rated at 32 mpg in the U.S. Government EPA California highway test. And 19 mpg in the EPA city test. That offers you a potential highway driving range of up to 592 miles, when you multiply Monza's 18.5-gallon fuel tank capacity by the EPA highway rating. That's dynamite mileage. And Monza has a lot more to offer. So don't make any deal on an import till you check out your Chevy dealer's deal on a '75 Monza. Until July 2nd, Chevrolet is offering your Chevy dealer special incentives to encourage him to offer you special savings opportunities on all the Monza models.

Paul Marsh Shell's TV Heating, 6-3

Paul Marsh Shell translated nine singles and a double into a 6-3 Livermore Slow-Pitch softball victory over Tri-Valley Heating and Air Conditioning Monday.

Winning pitcher Bill Geyer scattered 10 hits in seven innings.

The only extra base blow for Marsh was Daryle Frye's run-scoring double in the top of the third inning.

That was the big inning for the winners, who scored four times. Singles by Bob Spooner and Tim Malone set it up. Frye's double, a single by Geyer and Dextor Parkerson's infield out knocked in three of the scores.

Marsh added two runs in the seventh inning after Mark Johnson Bill Prokosch and Spooner led off with consecutive singles. Malone fetched ond run with a sacrifice fly to left field. Parkerson singled to bring home the final score.

Tri-Valley struck for two fourth-inning runs off Geyer, both unearned. A double by David Rounds knocked in one of the scores. In the sixth, singles by Terry Crane, Joe Benjamin and Cliff Ferrera produced Tri-Valley's last run.

New York Life nearly squandered a 6-0 lead in its game with Trinity Baptist Church, but held on to win, 11-8. Frank Richards led the winners with four hits, all singles. Dave Costa singled three times.

Two-run triples by Greg Bishop and Howe Loftin were key blows for New York Life. Bishop, Richards and Tim Schoop all scored two runs.

Trinity scored five times in the fourth inning, the key blows, an RBI-single by Bob Martin and Bob Ritchie's three-run double.

Singles by Lee Cobb and Lloyd Davis produced two more runs for Trinity in the sixth inning.

Ideal Drayage transported four runners across the plate in the top of the seventh inning then drove back a three-run Truckin rally in the bottom of the inning for a 10-7 victory.

Gerry Tassielli doubled in the final inning to chase home two Ideal runs. He singled home another score in the fifth inning. Tassielli finished the game 3-for-4. Teammate Bob Landon singled in the fifth and seventh innings, each time driving in runs.

Ray Haera keyed the Truckin comeback bid in the last of the seventh with a two-run triple. Carl Cragholm singled him home. Ken McCune was Truckin's leading hitter with three singles in four trips to the plate.

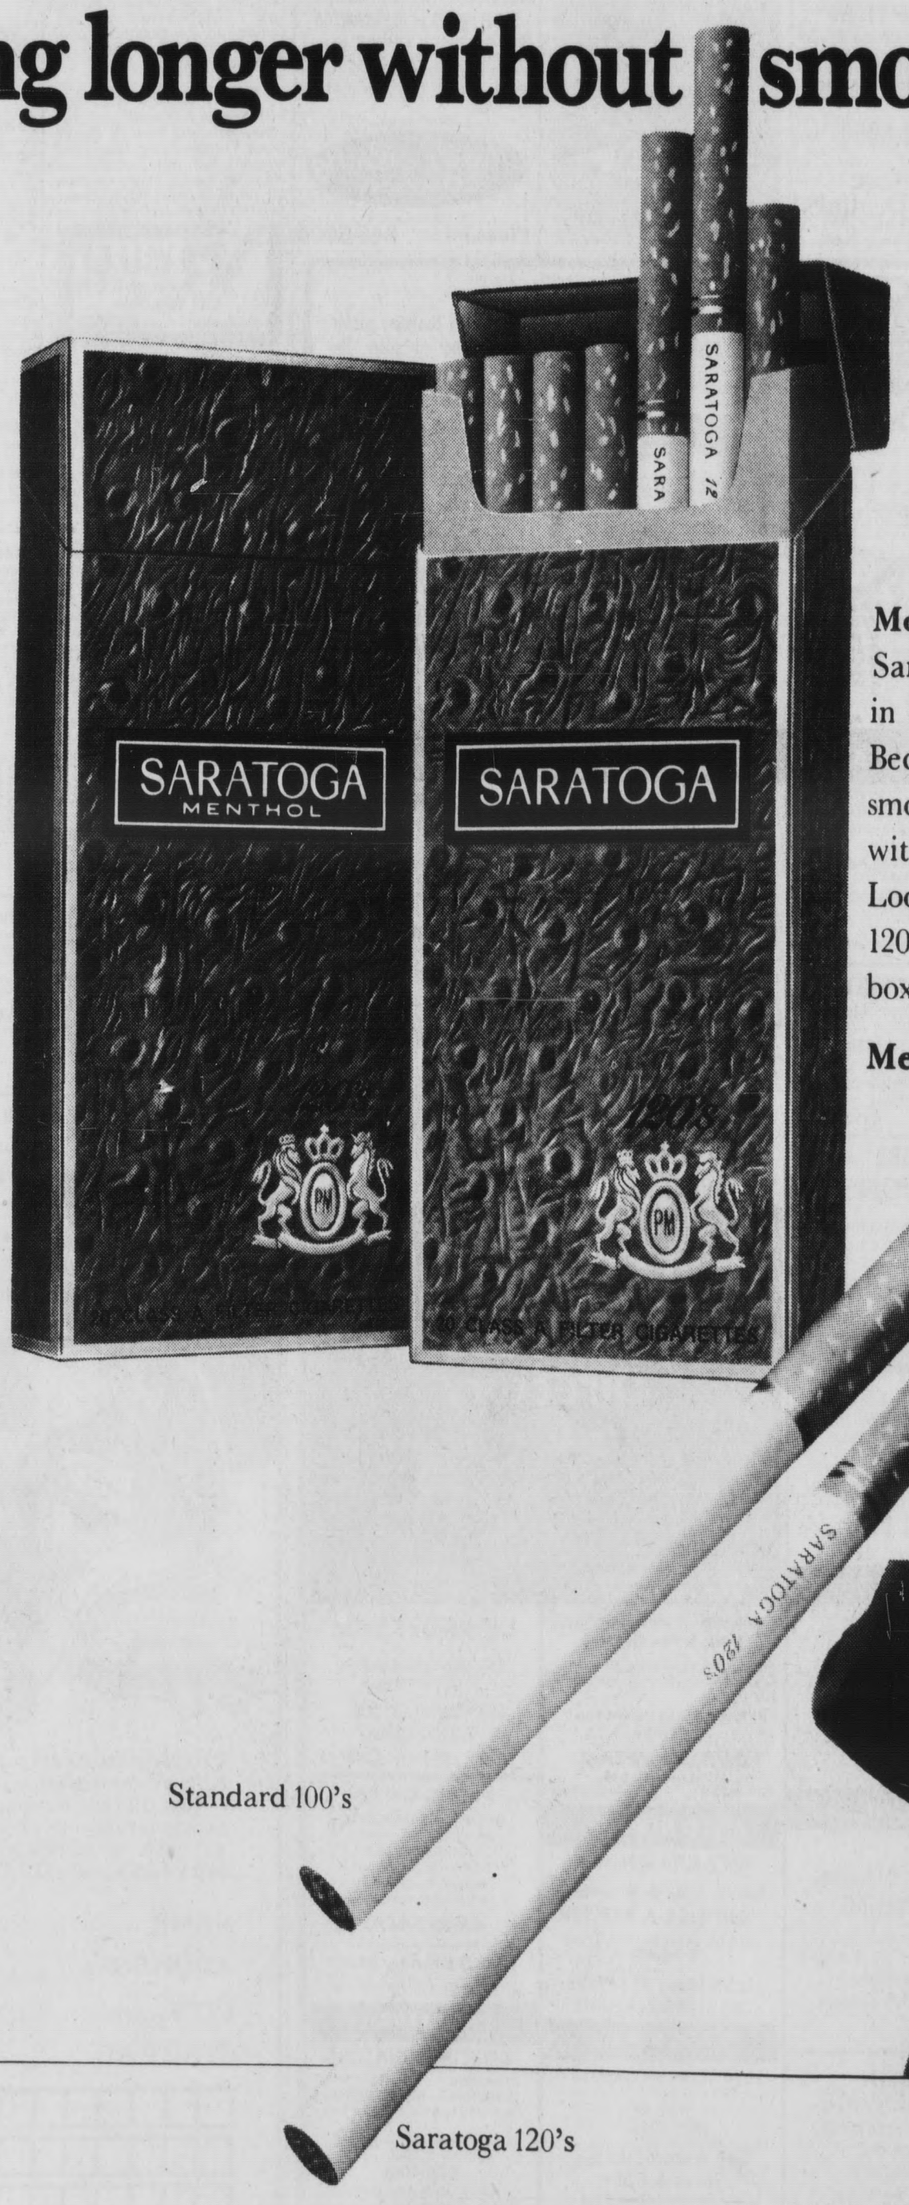
New from Philip Morris.

Saratoga 120's.

Enjoy smoking longer without smoking more.



That's the Saratoga idea.

More puffs than 100's.
Tailored longer and slimmer than 100's, so you enjoy extra smoking time, extra smoking pleasure, without smoking more cigarettes.

Priced no more than 100's.
And Saratoga 120's are rich, full-flavor cigarettes made from a fine blend of tobaccos.

More than just a new brand.
Saratoga 120's are a whole new idea in smoking pleasure.
Because now you can enjoy smoking longer without smoking more.
Look for them in the new 120 mm crush-proof box.

Menthol and Regular.

"Why don't they say. 'Enjoy smoking longer without paying more?'"

Standard 100's
